Geneseo Comm Unit #228

Dear Scott:

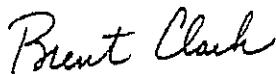

The Horace Mann League is a national organization, founded in 1922, to carry on the work of Horace Mann, the recognized architect of the American public education system. The mission of the League is to preserve, support, and strengthen the public schools of our great nation. The members of the Horace Mann League believe that the American public school system is an indispensable institution for the perpetuation of the ideas of our democracy and a most necessary unifying and dynamic influence in American life. Public education has played a vital role in making this country great and is vital to its continuance.

Let me tell you more about the Horace Mann League. The Horace Mann League has an annual meeting and luncheon on the Saturday of the annual conference of the American Association of School Administrators. At our annual meeting we recognize individuals and organizations that have made significant efforts to improve public schools. The League has a quarterly newsletter and maintains a website at www.hmleague.org where more information is available.

For the past several years I have been a member of the Horace Mann League. Membership in the League is by invitation only to those having demonstrated leadership to the larger educational community. It is my pleasure to so invite you to join the League, and to inform you that your name has been forwarded to Dr. Jack McKay, Executive Director of HML as my personal nominee for membership in the League.

Enclosed is a membership application on the Horace Mann League. Annual dues are $65.00. Please remit your dues directly to the Horace Mann League, not IASA. I hope you will consider this nomination as both a professional honor and an opportunity to help improve public education in your community, state, and nation.

Yours for better schools,

Brent Clark, Ph.D.
Executive Director
