Dear Joe,

It is my pleasure to announce that you have been nominated by Harvey Green and selected by the Illinois Alliance for Arts Education award committee to be recognized as the recipient of the IAAE Drama Theatre Educator Award. It is our pleasure to honor you for outstanding service to the arts and arts education and we look forward to publicly recognizing your commitment to arts education at our annual Illinois Alliance for Arts Education Awards Ceremony on March 18, 2011. You will receive a formal invitation in February indicating the time and location for our ceremony.

Each year, in March during Arts Education Week the Illinois Alliance For Arts Education recognizes various individuals and organizations throughout Illinois for their dedicated service and or promotion of arts in Illinois schools. We recognize arts educators, those in public and community service, artists, industry, school administrators and members of the IAAE organization. The IAAE officers and members are aware of your outstanding contributions to the arts. We commend you for your dedication to the arts.

It is our sincere hope that you and your guests (limit of 2) will be able to attend the reception and ceremony. In the event that you and your guest(s) are able to attend the ceremony we would appreciate names and addresses of those you wish to invite to share this day with you. Please send your list of guests and addresses to the address listed below. We would like to formally invite them to attend the ceremony and would appreciate receiving your list on or before January 30, 2011. Formal invitations will be sent in the first part of February. After receiving your award you will be able to deliver a short response. Please try to hold your response to two minutes.

We would appreciate knowing the name of your local newspaper and the Editor's address so we can send notice of the award. Please direct questions/responses to the IAAE office at the address below.

Sincerely,

Becky A. Blaine, Pres. IAAE
